- Medical and Travel Insurance: You must purchase a comprehensive and extended insurance policy that covers all the activities during the trip (including winter sports and air medical services). This includes: personal insurance, baggage insurance, full adventure travel insurance, including medical evacuation from remote and dangerous areas and subsequent treatment in Israel, as well as trip cancellation insurance. To be clear, Phototeva does not insure or provide insurance coverage for participants. Participants must purchase full insurance coverage for all the regular and extreme activities expected on the expedition, including accident and medical insurance. Participants are responsible for purchasing the required insurance policy. In addition, the insurance issue of this tour is regulated by the cruise operator and any claim on this issue will be addressed directly to it.
- Medical Preparations: As with any trip, certain medical preparations are required, such as vaccinations and medications. It is the sole responsibility of the travelers to receive the information and prepare for these preparations (Phototeva is prevented from giving any personal medical recommendation).
- The local authorities in might ask you to provide a negative COVID-19 test as requirement to enter the Chile. It is also the responsibility of tOhe travelers to verify the conditions of entry into Chile (according to their nationality) and to take care of arranging all the required documents. Phototeva will not be liable for refusal of entry for one reason or another.
- The weight limit is 20 kg per person, due to the size of the aircraft and safety restrictions. At the landing pad before / after the flight, there will be a 2-kilometer walk on a flat ground route with the luggage (in exceptional cases, an ATV ride can be booked with prior approval)

- As expected in an extreme expedition to one of the coldest, and most isolated areas in the world, this trip poses clear risks that could result in injury or even worst. As with any trip, especially when it comes to extreme activities where there is a risk, there are dangers along the way: extreme weather, poor infrastructure, dangerous animals and also dangers that can occur in unexpected places and times. As you can expect on a trip to one of the coldest, and most isolated places in the world - it is a journey that can be dangerous, lead to injuries and even worse. It is important to be aware of these dangers. It is the responsibility of the travelers to make sure that they have received all the information they need before setting out on the trip.
The expedition includes various extreme activities such as, but not limited to Zodiac boat rides, ice and snow walking, close proximity to wild animals, sailing through extreme weather and so on. The participants must be physically healthy and mentally stable in order to deal with potential mishaps, extreme weather and problems that arise along the way. It is imperative that they listen to the guides and drive according to their instructions. By joining this Phototeva expedition, the participant hereby declares that he/she understands the nature of the activities and the potential dangers of the expedition and is medically fit. If the participant has a medical problem that may hinder or prevent his/her participation in the various activities of the expedition, it is their responsibility to notify the company and the guide before embarking on the journey. In some cases, the participant will have to present a note from his/her doctor in order to participate in the expedition. Without this note, the participant will not be allowed to join the expedition.
- Due to weather and / or safety constraints, the flight to Antarctica or Antarctica may be delayed for several days. Travelers confirm that they are aware of the fact that no refund will be allowed for these days. In addition, Phototeva will do everything in its power to carry out the journey as it prepares. However, there may be changes in the plan and / or the dates of the trip due to things over which the photo has no control. Including, but not limited to, weather, technical faults, border or port closures, etc.

- The expedition is contingent on a minimum number of participants. In rare occasions, the guide may be replaced before the start of the expedition.
- Travelers are aware that the crew will take photos during the cruise. Photos in which the travelers may be visible in them. By joining this trip, travelers confirm to use these photos for marketing purposes.

- Nature is wild and unpredictable, so there is no way to guarantee the animals' behavior and proximity or even ensure sightings at all. The crew of the ship will make the final decision regarding the route of the voyage and the order and content of the activities, keeping passenger safety as their top priority.

I, the undersigned ("the Participant" and/or the "Traveler") hereby guarantee to compensate Phototeva Ltd. [Bn. 514883289] for the trip, as specified above in this order confirmation and its appendixes (AGREEMENT AND TERMS OF SERVICE ORDER) and in accordance with the terms of the reservation and the agreement given to me which I have read carefully and approved, including all the terms and conditions specified therein. I shall not claim that I (the Participant) and/or any of the other participants has not read them and/or not accepted them. In case of dispute, it will be brought and discussed in the court of Tel-Aviv Jaffa. I hereby confirm that my medical condition allows me to participate in the trip.

I hereby acknowledge the above information and confirm the transaction of the above payment.
